Wedding at St. John's Has Pretty Floral Setting

Diplomats, Official and Resident Social Sets at Erwin-Blodgett Ceremony—Other Weddings.

St. John's Church on Lafayette Square, where more notable weddings have taken place than at any other point in Washington, wore its spring decoration of flowers at 4 o'clock yesterday for the wedding of Miss Helen Peck Blodgett, daughter of Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett, and Capt.
Henry Parsons Erwin. Some minutes before the ceremony the quaint edifice was filled with society folk, representing diplomatic, official and resident sets, with an unusually large number of service folk present.

The chancel was banked with Australian ferns, and there was a half arch formed of pink rambler roses with hydrangeas at the base. On the altar were pink roses, blue lupin and pink snapdragons. The graceful decoration was also carried out in marking the ends of the pews that were occupied by relatives, garlands of pink rambler roses, blue lupin and pink snapdragons being used. The Rev. Dr. George W. Douglas of Tuxedo, N. Y., officiated at the ceremony.
The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her brother, Mr.
Delos A. Blodgett, Jr., of Grand Rapids, Mich. She wore a splendid one-piece robe of rose point lace, slightly draped with clusters of orange blossoms, while bands of blossoms formed a drapery line effect from each hip. There was a long rope-like girdle of pearls about the waist, which was finished at the top of the bodice with pearls. A panel of the lace fell over the satin train, showing at the bottom of the skirt.
The sleeves were in slight effect, haring the arm to the elbow, where they were caught and held by bands of pearls. The tulle veil was adjusted with a Russian coronet of point lace, during the ceremony. The bride's bouquet was of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Miss Mona Blodgett, a debutante of last season, was maid of honor for her sister, and wore a gown of blue and silver changeable taffeta, the full skirt made in hoop effect at the sides and the long pointed bodice and sleeves finished with bows of silver and blue ribbon. A shepherdess model of blue lined with faint rose pink, and she carried an ivory shepherds crook, on which was tied a graceful cluster of orchids and blue delphinium. There were four bridesmaids, Miss Myrtis V. Porcher of Florida, a cousin, Miss Dorothy Anderson of St. Paul, Miss Pauline Gates of Plainfield, N. J., and Miss Madeline Austin of Washington.
Their gowns were fashioned exactly after that of the maid of honor, but were of apricot and silver changeable taffeta, their hats of the same shade being lined with blue. They, too, carried tall ivory shepherds crooks, on which were tied tulle with flowing streamers of tulle clusters of Ophelia roses and blue and white delphinium.

The best man for Capt. Erwin was Capt. David St. P. Galliard, and the groomsmen were Capt. Edward H.

Catell, Mr. John Temple Graves, Jr.; Mr. Robert C. Watson and Mr. John M. Delbert. The ushers were John James L. Walsh, U. S. A.; the two brothers of the bridegroom, Mr. Walter B. Erwin and Mr. James A. Erwin, and their cousin, Mr. O. R. Erwin, all of Chicago; Mr. James Roland Lowe of Grand Rapids, Mich., nephew of the bride, and Robert V. Fleming of Washington.

There was an elaborate program of wedding music by the organist and the procession was preceded by boy choirsters. There was a reception in the home of Mrs. Blodgett, following the ceremony, when she received with the bride party, wearing a beautiful gown of gray lace over metal cluster of silver, and a gray hat with plumes.
The receiving party stood in the large bay window, which was banked with Australian ferns, with huge vases and standards of American beauty roses forming a background. The table from which the wedding feast was served was also decorated with tall vases and baskets of American beauty roses, while the bride's table bore a burden of white roses, lilies and lilies of the valley. Later in the afternoon, when Capt. and Mrs. Erwin left for their wedding trip, which will take them to the Pacific coast, she wore a modish suit, the long skirt straight, of blue velvet twill, with the hat of gray and blue matching the bodice worn beneath.
They will shortly sail for Honolulu.
